PROLOGUE . . .

With each new academic year comes the task of capturing and recording the events that take place at Savannah State College. It is the duty of the Tiger Staff to see that this is done.

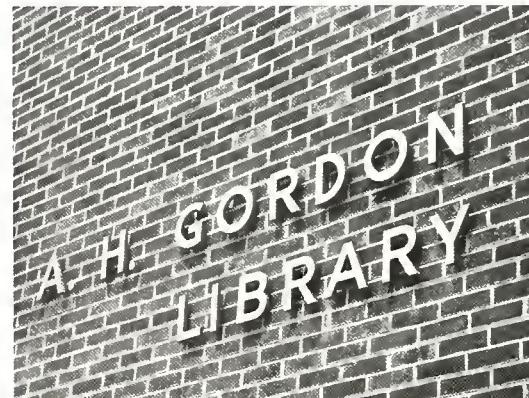

In the following pages, via photography and copy, we give our offering for the 1966-67 academic year. If you catch a glimpse of yourself that will make you stop and reminisce, we will consider our job well done.

DEDICATION

Mr. Wilbur C. McAfee

After viewing the roster of educators and other academic workers on our campus, the thoughts and ideas of the 1967 Tiger Staff assimilated to one point. The TIGER Staff synthesized its thoughts and ideas and focused on an individual who was educated in the public schools of Illinois, received the Bachelor of Education degree from the University of Southern Illinois, the Master of Arts degree from the University of Illinois and who has done further study at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois and the University of Illinois. He is presently an associate professor of Social Science and the Director of the Upward Bound Project at Savannah State College.

With great pride and humility we dedicate the 1967 Tiger to a most profound leader, authentic educator, and inspiring person, Mr. Wilber C. McAfee.

INTRODUCTION

Savannah is one of the most beautiful historic cities in the Southeast. It is captured above to be recorded as it appeared the split-second that it was photographed. The city is known for its many memorials of the past.

Unlike the "historic city"; SAVANNAH STATE COLLEGE thrives on current activity. The following pages captivate this current activity of "S.S.C." in the focus of the "SPOTLIGHT '67".

ADMINISTRATION

"When you have to make a choice", said William James, "and don't make it, that, in itself is a choice". No one can avoid decision-making and there are few times in life that choices have more influence on our futures than those made by our College Administrators.

OUR PRESIDENT

MESSAGE

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere congratulations to the staff and advisors of the 1967 edition of the "Tiger" for a job well done.

This school year—1966-67—will go down in history as one of the most momentous years in the history of Savannah State College. Our present enrollment increased to over 1600 students, and our faculty has been enlarged and greatly up-graded. Our building program, when completed, will enable us to provide a well-rounded program for our student body and the community.

To those of you who are leaving us this year, we send our best wishes. All of you will recall, in some instances with pleasure, and in other instances with some anguish, your classes in foreign languages, mathematics, physical education, education, English, business, home economics and technical sciences, and social sciences. You will also reflect upon the lyceum features, the excellent renditions of the Choral Society, the Band and the Men's Glee Club, the assembly programs and fine dramatic presentations, periods in the swimming pool and dances, and Homecoming of 1966. These and many more memories will return to you in the years following your graduation. The "Tiger" will increase in value to you over the years, since it will help you to reminisce over your glowing college experiences.

We extend congratulations to the seniors who will become our alumni, and we wish for you God's richest blessings as you go to your several endeavors.

ACADEMICS

Browning once stated, "Tis the taught already that profits by teaching". The Savannah State College consists of faculty members who come to us with varied backgrounds and from various institutions, yet, having one characteristic in common, that of having been taught.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Division of Business Administration strives to teach its students worthwhile skills and develop their abilities in order to obtain key positions in the highly competitive areas of business education and administration. This division is equipped and staffed for a successful business program.

Miss Albertha Boston, Assistant Professor, outlines classes for freshman Business Major.

Miss Marcelle Rhodriques, Assistant Professor observes a student's progress on the typewriter.

Mrs. Mildred Glover, Instructor, returns Economics examination papers.

Dr. Hayward Anderson, Professor & Head of the Administration Division, lectures on Business Law.

Mr. Harold Taylor, Instructor, entertains a student's question in Economic History.

EDUCATION

Assurance and competence in general and specialized education are the major objectives of the Division of Education. After completing a general education sequence, students are enrolled in education courses in observation and practice teaching at schools in Savannah and surrounding cities.

Dr. Thelma Harmond, Professor, and Chairman of Division of Education discusses pre-registration with the Dean of Faculty on the phone.

Mr. Maurice S. Stokes, Associate Professor of Education checks his files.

Dr. Herman Sartor, Professor, Education explains to Beverly Teague the General Education Curriculum.

Mrs. Ida Gadsden, Assistant Professor, assembles charts for her Curriculum class.

Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton, Assistant Professor, assists an Elementary Education Major with registration.

Dr. John Wilson, Professor & Head of the Department of Secondary Education enters Payne Hall to begin another busy day.

HEALTH AND RECREATION

In order to function at his best mentally, one must be in good physical condition. This fact was recognized several years ago by the late John F. Kennedy, former president of the United States, on a national basis when he initiated his Physical Fitness Program.

The department of Health and Recreation at Savannah State College offers an intensified program for physical education majors. All students are required to complete five quarter hours of physical education.

Dr. Raymond Hopson, Associate Professor, explains the skeletal system to a class in Physiology.

Mrs. Abernathy, Assistant Professor, chooses appropriate recordings for a class in Social Square Dancing.

Richard Washington, Assistant Professor, compares scores at the end of Physical Education class.

Mr. Theodore Wright, Associate Professor, leaves for home after a busy day of Physical Education classes.

Mr. Albert Frazier, Associate Professor and Athletic Director, outlines 66-67 basketball schedule for the "Tigers."

ENGLISH

The humanities give things money can not buy, but they can help us to think, speak, and find our place in the world. Most of all they enable us to become true men and women.

English, modern languages, and fine arts make up the division of humanities, however, English ranks foremost because of its necessity in every field of study.

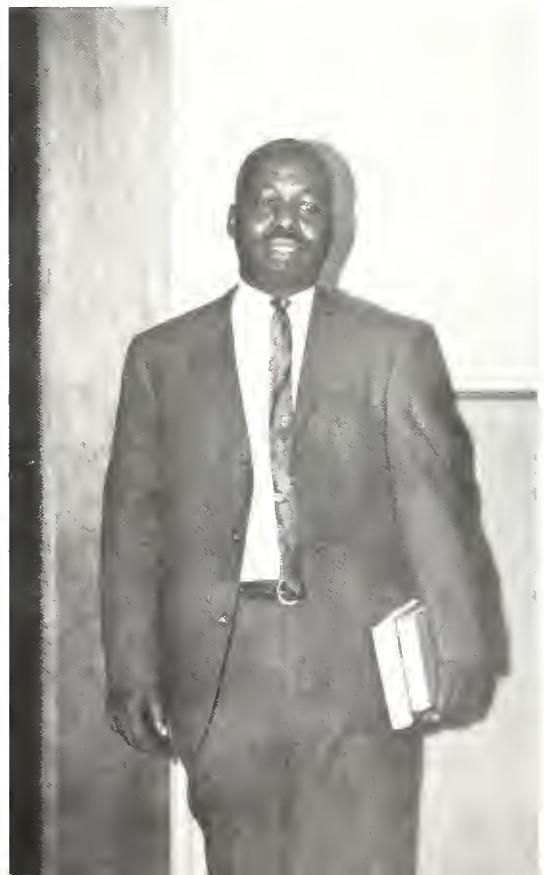

Dr. Forest Wiggins, Professor, checks correspondence.

Mr. Graves, instructor, lectures to a class in Literature.

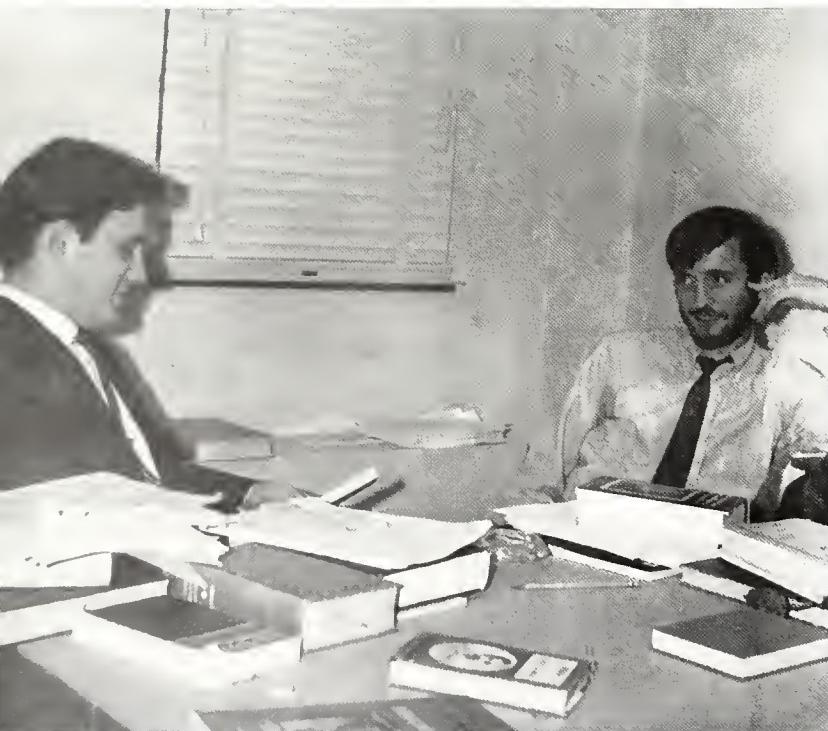

Mrs. Milledge, Assistant Professor, recognizes a hand in an English class.

Mr. Robert Holt, Assistant Professor, reminisces after leaving a class in Freshman English.

Mr. Raymond Jordan, Instructor, explains musical score to a student.

Mr. James Thompson, Assistant Professor, lectures to a Music Fundamentals class.

Mrs. Farnese Lumpkin, Assistant Professor, lectures to an Art class.

MODERN LANGUAGE

The Modern Language department strives to provide each student with reading, writing, and speaking knowledge of at least one foreign language. French, German, and Spanish courses are offered with majors in French and Spanish.

Dr. Howard Jason (right) Professor & Department Head converses in Spanish with Dr. Valle.

Miss Althea Morton, Assistant Professor, listens to students recite in language laboratory.

52 Dr. Valle, Associate Professor, prepares to leave for his Spanish class.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

In order to understand what is, man must know what has been. It is with this idea in mind that the Social Science division sets its aims. Social Science is the highest expression of achievement in our society, ennobling and enriching human life. Students may receive majors in Social Science teaching education and Sociology with a concentration in Social Work at Savannah State College.

Mr. Whittington Johnson, Associate Professor, examines notes for a history lecture.

Dr. Elmer Dean, Professor & Division Chairman, checks correspondence during an office break.

Mr. David Roberts, Assistant Professor, examines test papers after class.

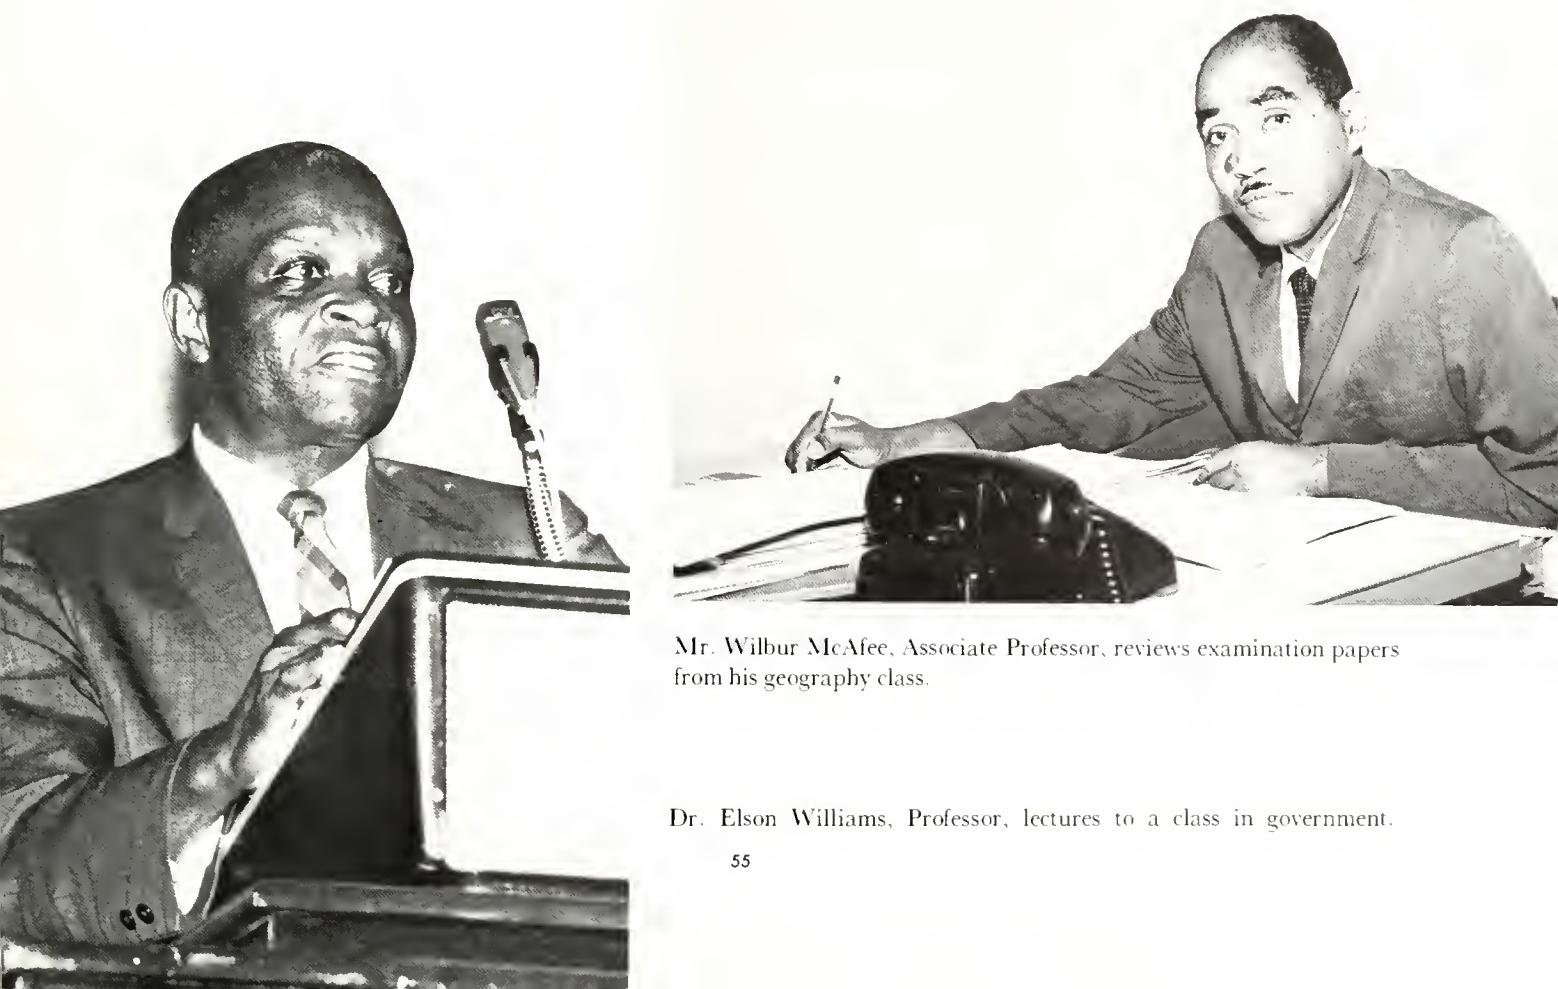

Mr. Austin Washington, Instructor, prepares to leave his office for a Western Civilization class.

Miss Alexa Benson, Instructor, pauses from her office work to be photographed.

Dr. Joan Gordon, Professor, hurriedly leaves her office to lecture to her class in Modern Social Problems.

Mr. Wilbur McAfee, Associate Professor, reviews examination papers from his geography class.

Dr. Elson Williams, Professor, lectures to a class in government.

ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGY

The construction of new and elaborate buildings is a trademark of the American people. Savannah State College offers programs in Building Construction Technology, Industrial Arts, and Mechanical Technology. These programs aim at preparing world leaders to build America's trademarks, and to teach others the skills of Industrial Arts.

Dr. Clyde Hall, Professor and Head of the Technical Science Division, gives assistance in a drawing class.

Mr. Frank Tharpe, Assistant Professor, gives the ladies a helping hand.

Mr. Leroy Brown, Assistant Professor, (far left) conducts a Machinery class.

Mr. Eugene Jackson, Instructor, grades a student in the Driver Education Class.

Mr. Charles Philson, Instructor, tests some electrical equipment for Phil West.

Mr. John Mason, Assistant Professor, lectures on the use of the slide rule.

58 Mr. Wilbur Sullivan, Associate Professor, interrupts a busy schedule for a photograph.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics department thrives on ideas and ideals which develop the best home makers and vocational home economists. It offers programs in foods, textiles and clothing, general home economics and pre-school education.

Mrs. Mollie Curtright, Assistant Professor, advises a student.

Mrs. Martha Avery, Assistant Professor, lectures on the "1001 Uses of Cotton".

Mrs. Evanel Terrell, Associate Professor & Department Head, talks about the nutritional value of lettuce.

BIOLOGY

Biology, mathematics and physics, chemistry, and general science majors are offered in the natural science division. The division sets its aims toward developing imaginative minds for improvements and for great discoveries. Biology majors are given freedom and equipment for actual research.

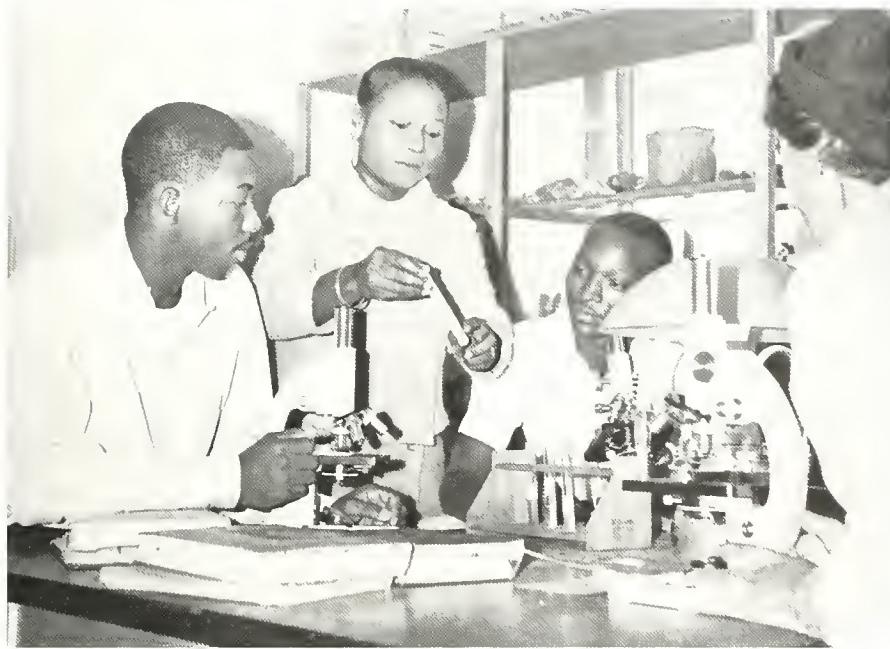

Dr. Booker Griffith, Professor & Chairman of the Division of Natural Science.

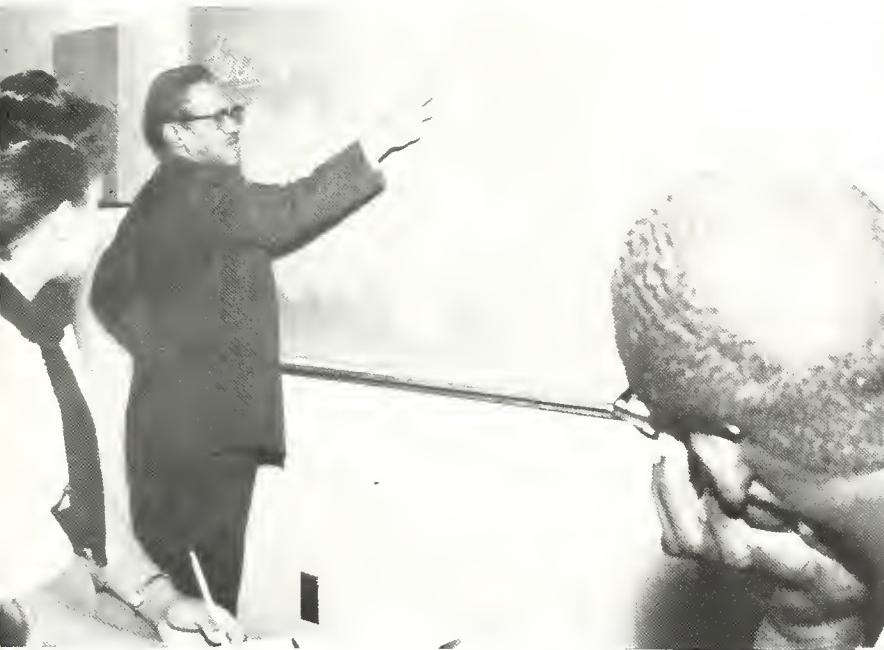

Dr. Villella, Associate Professor, illustrates the function of food and water on the digestive system.

Mr. Leo Richardson, Assistant Professor, employs Visual Aids in his Biology 125 lecture.

Mrs. Margaret Robinson, Assistant Professor, identifies organism in test tube for a laboratory class.

Mr. Joseph Wortham, Assistant Professor, explains cellular locomotion to a biology class.

Mr. Bernard Woodhouse, Instructor, assists students in a biology laboratory.

MATHEMATICS AND PHYSICS

The Mathematics and Physics department strives to give students a thorough understanding of "how and why" in a direct and natural sense. Recently, this department has begun to offer courses in computing at the Payne Hall Computer Center. Most of all this department thrives on its outstanding leadership.

Mr. John Clemons, Associate Professor & Department Head, shows results to freshman students of their College Algebra exam.

Mr. Walter Leftwich, Assistant Professor, pauses as he finishes grading papers.

Mrs. Sylvia Bowens, Assistant Professor, explains the sides and angles of a right triangle in Trigonometry.

Dr. V. Ananthanarayanan, Professor, explains a difficult Physics problem.

Dr. Jackson stresses an important factor in an equation to his class in Analytical Geometry.

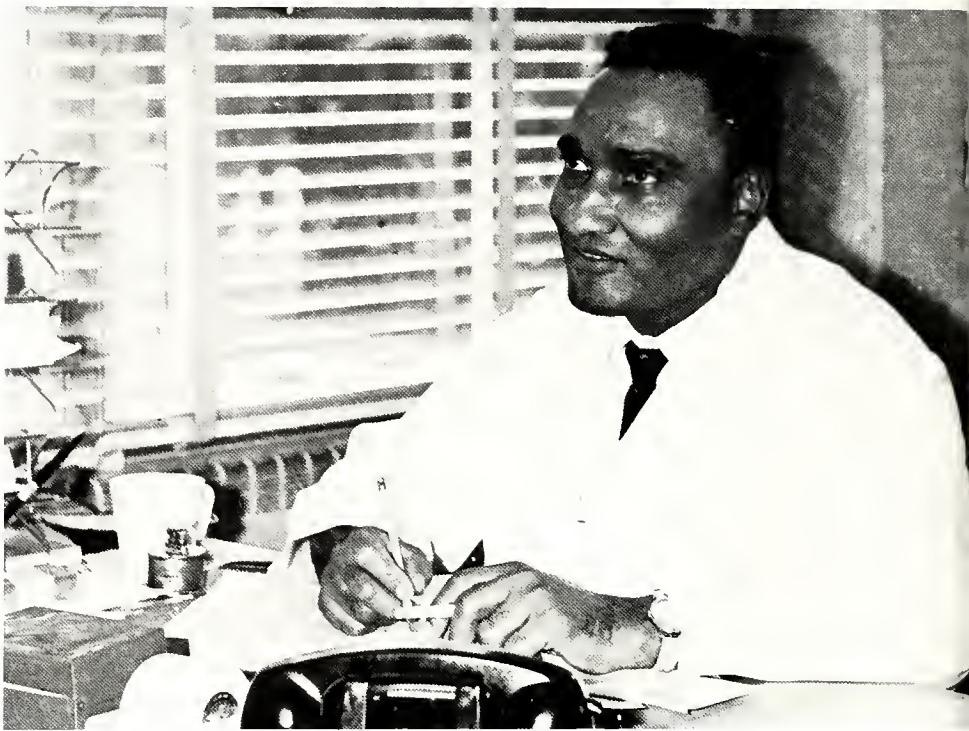

Mrs. Martha Wilson, Assistant Professor, smiles with approval of Joyce Washington's performance in Computer Programming.

CHEMISTRY

Chemistry demands that students apply new tools and methods to produce new projects. This is the aim of the chemistry department here at Savannah State College.

A number of chemistry majors enjoy financial benefits up to six-hundred dollars per year donated by the National Science Foundation. This department functions under the supervision and administration of four doctors.

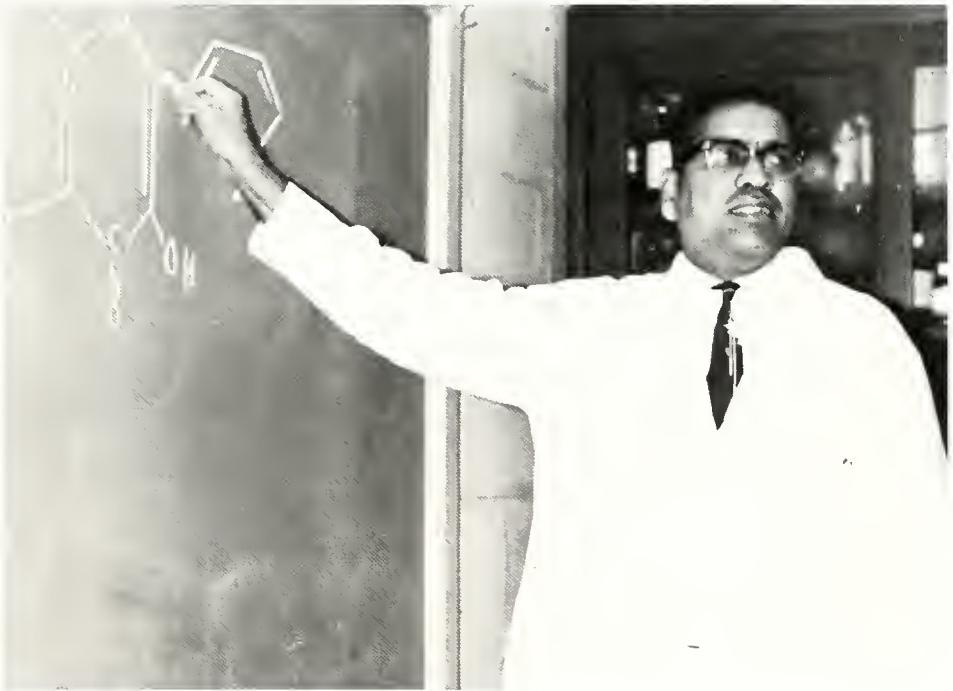

Dr. Charles Pratt, Professor & Head of the Department of Chemistry.

Dr. Willie Tucker, Professor, explains equation of a chemical reaction to students in his Chemistry 307 class.

EVENTS

Each year the S.S.C. Family looks forward with great anticipation to the calendar of annual events. Each year these events grow bigger and better. There are always some surprises in store for the student body. The "SPOTLIGHT '67" now shines on the people and events that have brought information, entertainment and inspiration to our lives.

S.S.C. DEDICATES BUILDINGS

Governor Sanders urged students to strive to meet the educational needs of Georgia.

Former governor, Carl Sanders, delivered the keynote address at the ribbon-cutting ceremony dedicating six recently completed buildings at S.S.C. Buildings being dedicated were:

W. K. PAYNE HALL

LOCKETTE HALL WOMEN'S DORMITORY

B. F. HUBERT TECHNICAL SCIENCE BUILDING

GORDON LIBRARY

WILEY-WILCOX PHYSICAL EDUCATION COMPLEX

J. L. LESTER WOMEN'S DORMITORY

Dr. George Simpson, Chancellor of the Board of Regents, and Mr. C. V. Clay, Associate Professor lead the procession of faculty and board members.

President Jordan receives keys to new buildings at ribbon-cutting ceremony.

ANNUAL CHARM WEEK

Charm Week is designed to give S.S.C.'s females advice concerning beauty. The week is highlighted with a talent and fashion show and a beauty advice conference.

Patricia Brown, former Miss S.S.C. opens Charm Week with vesper address.

ANNUAL MEN'S FESTIVAL

Annual Men's Festival gives the men of S.S.C. a chance to join forces in promoting finer manhood.

Dr. Henry Jenkins of Albany State College delivers keynote address.

For outstanding scholarship, leadership and service, President Jordan presents to Charles Day the "Man of the Year" Award.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

Dr. Ghanda

To enrich the spiritual aspect of student life, we observed our annual Religious Emphasis Week. Dr. Samuel Ghanda, Dean of School of Religion, Howard University, delivered the keynote address.

Platform guests join Rev. Williams in opening song.

Rev. Paul Harwell of Inner City Methodist Church delivers an address on the controversial subject, "Is God Dead?"

15th ANNUAL SOUTHERN REGIONAL PRESS INSTITUTE

The Annual Press Institute is a two day affair where newspapers, yearbooks and other publications of high schools and colleges of our region are judged in various categories. Workshops, lectures and production of the "Pacemaker", a newspaper produced in 24 hours highlight the two day event.

Dr. Edward Brice of Washington D.C. delivers keynote address

Mr. Scott, Director of Public Relations makes a presentation

Participating winners proudly display their awards.

Of course, we all must eat, sometime.

W. Gordon Graham, consultant to "New Lady" magazine, served as Luncheon speaker.

COUNT BASIE

Count Basie poses with the First lady and President Jordon.

Count goes into action himself.

An Evening With the Count

That Big Band sound was really great.

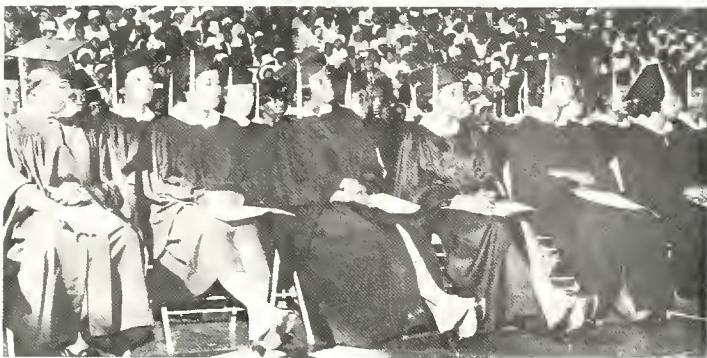

Count and guitar player discuss techniques with Lee Fluker.

JUNE COMMENCEMENT

Dr. Charles Wesley of Washington D.C. addressed graduates with words of wisdom and inspiration.

14th ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

Dr. Herman H. Long, President of Talladega College, delivers convocation address.

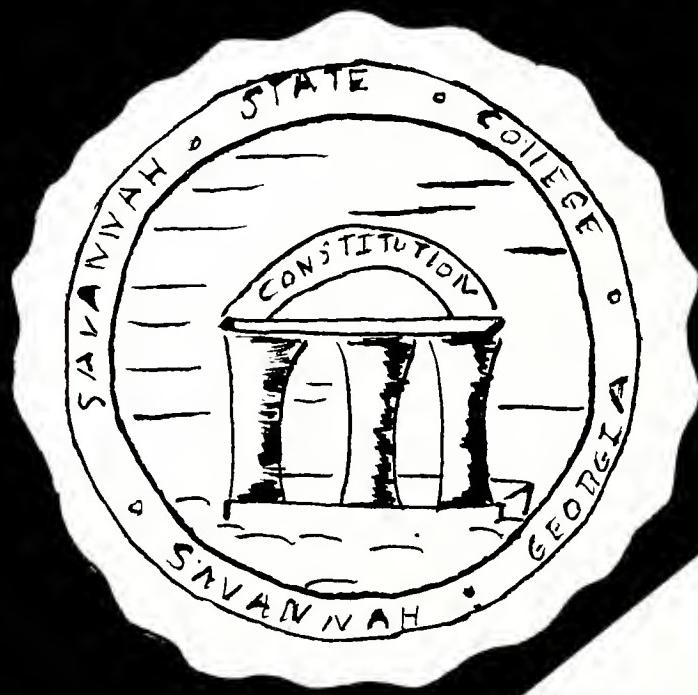

students congratulate Dr. Long for his inspiring message.

Honor students pose for the photographer.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student organizations at Savannah State College function to enrich the experiences of the students. They provide outlets for students to exercise their special talents, work together as a group, and make vital contributions to campus life and the community. In the next six pages the SPOTLIGHT '67 focuses attention on some of our college organizations.

EPILOGUE

Many times a yearbook staff hates to see the school year end. I do not think that this is true of the present one. This essay is usually devoted to thanking and praising the staff so I will make an effort to do so.

To the Staff, I express my deepest appreciation. I realize that there were other ways you could have found to spend your valuable time. Even in the threatening shadow of an impending deadline the editing of the '67 TIGER remained a cherished experience because of the people with whom it was done. My sincere thanks goes to our photographers, Robert Mobley and Hubert Harmon. The very best of yearbook staffs would have a difficult time producing a good yearbook without any pictures.

To the students we offer the '67 TIGER as a record of memories for you to cherish after leaving S.S.C. this year. For your help, thank you!

The "Spotlight '67" begins to grow dim and we turn our backs on another school year. It is hoped that you caught a glimpse of yourself somewhere hidden in the past 215 pages that made you stop to reminisce. If so, we consider our job well done.

Johnny J. Davis, Editor-in-Chief
